Verse

Hey, hey Josie, give me a beer and some fries
 Did I ever tell you, you got come to bed eyes
 You wanta hit an afterhours later tonight
 Fall in the sack, make love in the dawn light

Chorus

She said "easy now, boy, get your eyes off my hips
 I wouldn't be caught dead kissin' the likes of your lips
 My Johnny, he graduatin' from NYU
 We're goin' out steppin tonight, so later for you

Chorus

Go go Josie, shoot the rat down
 One less lawyer lurkin' around
 You killed him for love, it wasn't for money
 That's the sad story of Josie and Johnny

Verse

Midnight down the Cafe Odeon
 I saw Johnny and a lady gettin' it on
 One of them Greenwich girls with a whole lot of money
 But someone told Rosie and she got down there in a hurry

Verse

The tears and mascara were rannin' down her cheeks
 She looked at me and said "hey, life stinks,
 I got a rocket in my pocket and it's aimed at Johnny
 Gonna be one less lawyer rippin off our asses

Chorus

D E7
 Go go Josie, shoot the rat down
 G A
 One less lawyer lurkin' around
 D E7
 You killed him for love, it wasn't for money

Bridge

G A7
 Next mornin' my phone rings bright and early
 D D7
 I need some bail money, honey, and I need it in a hurry
 G A7
 I blew that sonofabitch to hell and hereafter
 C A7
 With a bullet from my itty bitty 357

Bridge

G A7
 That Greenwich girl she gone home to her mother
 D D7
 She didn't want her snotty face on no magazine cover
 G A7
 And that's the end of that society marriage
 C E7 A7
 Don't go messin' with no girl who sends her man- through college

So I rushed down to the criminal court
 Ready to sell my house to bail my baby out
 But Josie she don't need no help from me
 She sittin' right up on top of the DA's knee

Later that week they got married in Vegas
 Josie sent me a card that just said "the lord save us"
 And the DA eventually ran for mayor of my city
 With Josie on his arm he won real easy
