Repeat first line

A B C D E D B A G A

No need for sympathy, we both knew the cost
Of building castles on dreams and dust
No time for sentiment, there's nothing left to gain
Pick up the pieces, just begin again
I saw the stars collide in the very skies for you
While those around you stayed obscured by clouds
Then tell me why, if I still burn for you
There's no love lost between us now.
